This track allows walkers to reach a lookout on a peninsula in the middle of Stinkpot Bay. A charming bush track brings you to the lookout which has stunning views across North West Bay. Weeds used to choke the bush along the track, but dedicated local volunteers have cleaned the area up and planted the reserve out with native trees.

- 15 minutes one way
- 0.5 km one way
- Limited parking along Howden Road.
- Mostly narrow bush track.
- Do not approach cliff edges.
- Closely supervise children.

Enter this treasured bushland quietly and unhurriedly to observe birds, butterflies, skinks, small mammals and insects. Walk beneath stringybarks and sheoaks, alongside sundew and heath, and past tree ferns to experience peace and tranquility and mother nature at her best. Keep a lookout for the distinctive cube-shaped droppings of wombats that trundle about in the area. Spring and summer reveal a myriad of pink, blue, yellow and white wildflowers. Wingara Gully is a coastal glade full of diversity and life, lovingly cared for by the local community.

- 1 hour return
- 3.2 km return
- Limited parking in Draper Road, no parking in Wingara Road.
- Narrow bush track, fairly rough with steep sections.