

About the Peggy's Beach Reserve

The reserve contains the endangered forest community black peppermint (Eucalyptus amygdalina) on sandstone. A vegetation community is a distinctive grouping of plants that grow together in the same space.

Many of these big beautiful peppermint trees can be seen throughout the reserve.

Prickly moses

Prickly moses (Acacia verticillata) is a great bird habitat shrub or small tree that can tolerate the shade and is easy to grow. The spiky form protects small birds from predators.

Common Heath

Common heath (Epacris impressa) creates a beautiful spray of white or pink flowers in winter.

The pink variety was the first floral emblem adopted in Australia, by Victoria.

A FOCUS ON

Peggy's
Beach
Reserve

Kingborough

Native cranberry

Native cranberry (Astroloma humifusum) is a pretty ground covering plant with edible fruit.

Prickly beauty

Prickly beauty (Pultenaea juniperina) is a wonderful colourful plant, sometimes known as eggs and bacon. Great for small birds and insects.

Native cherry

The native cherry (Exocarpus cupressiformis) starts producing fruit in November. Fruit is ripe when red and birds enjoy eating them. the fruit is safe for humans as well.

Dusty daisy bush

The dusty daisy bush (Oleria phlogioides) flowers are most commonly white, however it can also come in pink or mauve.

Fold 2

Fold 3

Fold 1

Erect currentbush

The erect currentbush (Exocarpus strictus) is a very similar species to the native cherry but generally grows as a bush.

Glandular pink bells

The glandular pink bells (Tetralochea labillardierei) have pink or purple flowers in spring.

It is a compact erect shrub to 100cm.

Hop goodenia

The cheerful yellow flowers of the hop goodenia (Goodenia ovata) emerge in spring and summer. A great hardy garden plant.

Eastern barred bandicoot

The Eastern barred bandicoot (Paramelotes gunni) is a rare small mammal, which lives within the Reserve.

This species is on the decline due to feral cats and loss of habitat.

Running postman

The running postman (Kennedia prostrata) have leaves that can be used to make a tea.

Slender rice flower

The slender rice flower (Pimelea linifolia) is a stunning butterfly attracting plant.

Erect growing up to 1.5m.

Coastal area of Peggy's Beach

Beautiful beaches, fishing spots and outlooks looking out over North West Bay.